Mt. Vernon, Ky.
May 18, 1912

Editor of the SIGNAL:—

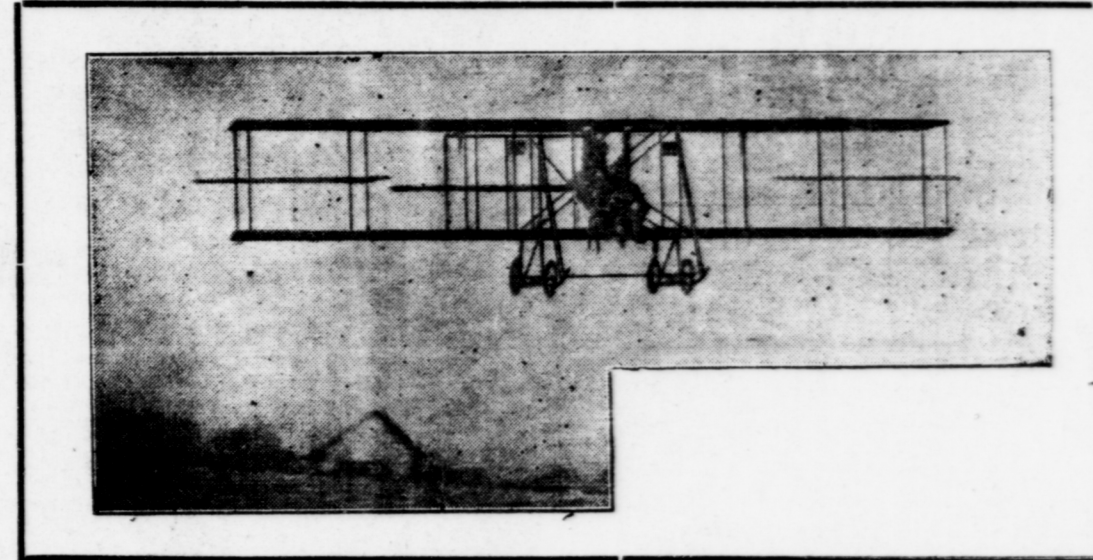

It will only be a few weeks until a large force of men will be at work at Pine Hill, putting up buildings installing machinery, grading for rail road tracks for the million dollar Portland Cement plant which is surely to be built at that place. This is to be the largest plant of the kind in the South. It is one of the great industries which are going up in Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee and we are certainly fortunate to have this great property erected in this county. It will be a great benefit to our citizens in many ways and it is hard to estimate its value to the citizens of Mt. Vernon, for there are so many things to be considered.

These people will have a monthly pay-roll of $20,000.00 to $30,000.00 and a great deal of it will be spent right here in Mt. Vernon if we can arrange to give them a chance to come to us. Many of the employees will make their homes in Mt. Vernon to have the advantages of our schools and to be away from the confusion of the factory plant. These citizens we need and must have. We must get to work and build a first class road to Pine Hill and it must be done at once. One of the officers of the company told me that if we could get the road built, he would build his home in Mt. Vernon and that it would be a nice one. Others of the company will do likewise. They will furnish us electric lights and power all we can use and cheaper than we could get it any other way. I have said too much already but will say that I haven't got the cork half way out. Let's get busy for the road to Pine Hill and a new hotel for Mt. Vernon. Let everybody

AN ACT PROHIBITING PUBLIC DRINKING CUPS. IN FORCE JUNE 10, 1912.

The use of the common drinking cup on railroad trains, and in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, or steamboats, in stores or other publicly frequented places in Kentucky is hereby prohibited. No person or corporation in charge of the aforesaid places, and no person or corporation shall permit on said railroad train, in railroad stations, public hotel, boarding houses, restaurants, steamboats, stores, or any publicly frequented place in Kentucky, the use of the drinking cup in common. There must also be posted in a conspicuous place, by the individual or corporation, by the drinking water contained in any of the places mentioned in foregoing paragraph, a warning card-board with the above printed thereon in large letters, so they can be easily read. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act, shall, upon conviction be fined in any sum not less than one dollar, and not more than ten dollars, and each day's violation of the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense, punishable by fine in the amount named above.

All laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.
(Passed by Kentucky Legislature, Session 1912; Governor's signature, March 12, 1912.)

TUBERCULAR DEATH RATE

In the decade from 1901 to 1910 the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States declined from 196.9 for each 100,000 persons living to 160.3—a decrease of 18.7 per cent., while the general death rate, including all causes of death, declined only one half as fast, or at the rate of 9.7 per cent.

This encouraging statement is made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. It is gratifying, of course, to the association as indicative that the campaign against tuberculosis which has been without effect. There are many contributing causes for the decline in the death rate and the association mentions among these the change in the character of our urban population, the improvements in sanitation and the better housing methods which now obtain in many of the American cities. Incidentally it is noted that in certain cities, such as New York, Boston, Cleveland, and Chicago, the decline in the tuberculosis death rate is much more marked than in the country at large.

The anti-tuberculosis campaign has been of value in bringing about better housing and better sanitation in many cities. It does not deserve all or even a major share of the credit for this, of course, but it has been unquestionably a potent agency for better conditions. The good showing made seems fully to justify the prediction of the National Association that "when the effects of the present rapidly increasing provision for the cure of tuberculosis patients shall have become evident the decline in the death rate from consumption in the coming decade will be even more marked than that in the last one."

Forty State Boards of Health agree that the public cup should be abolished.

Twelve of these boards expect officially to abolish the cup in the near future.

Thirteen other boards need authority from their Legislatures for such action.

The Colorado and Nebraska State Boards of Health will ask such authority at the next session of their Legislatures.

Educational campaigns to enlighten the public regarding the dangers of public drinking vessels are being carried on by the authorities of thirty-two States.

Sixteen railroads now give the option to passengers to purchase individual cups for one cent.

Twenty seven railroad presidents would agree with the action of health authorities in abolishing public drinking cups.

Municipal authorities in a dozen leading cities are successfully eliminating common cups from schools, parks, public streets, theaters and department stores.

Success depends upon the enlightenment of the public regarding the common drinking cup.

From Collier's Weekly.

The census figures show that illiteracy is decreasing in Kentucky. It is not vanishing at so rapid a rate as the friends of education could wish but it is going, nevertheless, and there is enough evidence of educational advancement to give cause for general gratification.

In 1900 there was reported in Kentucky a total number of illiterates over 10 years of age of 262,954 out of a population of 1,589,685. In 1910 the census enumerators found 208,044 illiterates in a total population of 1,722,744. The percentage of illiteracy which was 16.5 in 1900 had declined to 12.8 in 1910.

The fact that there were fewer illiterates by nearly 55,000 in 1910 than were reported in 1900 shows that our illiterates are being reduced at the rate of more than 5,000 a year, and is more encouraging. The campaign for better education is having its effect. It may not be possible to wipe out our illiteracy entirely. Older Commonwealths than ours are unable to do so, but there is manifest hope here in Kentucky of cutting down the percentage to a figure which will put Kentucky several notches higher on the educational scale and enable her to occupy a position among the most progressive States of the union.

Illiteracy is decreasing among both whites and blacks, and in the meantime there is constant improvement in educational facilities for both races. This good record must be maintained until there are good schools everywhere there is need for them and until the percentage of illiteracy is brought to an irreducible minimum.

LARGEST GRAPE VINE.

In all ages and in all lands the grape tree has been famous for longevity. Vines in Italy and France are certainly known to be three and in some cases as much as four centuries old. Pliny, the Roman naturalist and a trustworthy writer mentions a vine the age of which was 600 years.

A great number of vines were introduced into California in the early part of the Eighteenth century by the old Franciscan fathers who left so broad a mark upon that region. The grapevines they imported came from Spain. One of these called "La Vina Grande" and growing near Santa Barbara, is the largest in the world so far as is known. Its trunk is ten feet in circumference, many of its branches are more than four feet in girth and the arbor over which the vine is trained covers 10,000 square feet. In its shade more than 800 people have gathered for picnic purposes, and an equal number for casting their votes or listening to political discussions. This colossal vine is in its youth as yet, having been planted by a Spanish woman in 1842. It has produced in a single season as much as twelve tons of grapes. It is already twice the size of the famous Hampton Court vine in England and is still growing. The English vine is 150 years old and ranks second in the world for size.

Near Los Angeles is another, called the "Trinity" because of its three principal branches, which though older than "La Grande", covers only half as much ground. It was a very large vine as far back as 1800. All the older grape vines of California are of the Mission and Rose of Peru variety and appear to be immune to all ordinary pests.

POT AND KETTLE.

New York World: It is no longer merely as a candidate that Mr. Roosevelt appeals to his party. He assumes the tone of a dictator. A month in advance, although 200 delegates are yet to be chosen, he notifies the convention that he will be nominated on the first ballot, and that any other action will be plain fraud. "You'll take me, not Taft, or I'll make trouble for the party," is his latest threat. Is this terrible fighter bluffing? Dare he bolt?

Why Have "Nerves"?

This is the reason why women have "nerves." When thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, impulses lag and the warnings of pain and distress are sent like flying messages throughout limbs and frame, straightway, nine times in ten, a woman will lay the cause of the trouble to some defect at the point where she first felt it. Is it a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made from medicinal extracts of native roots, without the use of alcohol, relieved over 90 per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in form of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Mrs. LILA B. HAWKINS, of Zions, Va., writes: "I had been failing in health for two years—most of the time was not able to attend to my household duties. Female weakness was my trouble and I was getting very bad but, thanks to Doctor Pierce's medicines, I am well and strong again. I took only three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and used the 'Lotion Tablets.' I have nothing but praise for Doctor Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Last Friday and Saturday was the examination, for County certificates. There were forty applicants and we understand that more than three fourths, of the number made good first class grades. It was the easiest examination has been sent out in many years, and we believe that it is fitting to say, that any one who could not make a first class out of it should make more preparation, before trying to teach, and nothing but firsts should be granted under such an examination.

County Court Clerk S. F. Bowman tells a most remarkable story of rats stealing chickens. Mr. Bowman says that on Wednesday of last week he took from his incubator 91 chickens, all of which were thriving and doing well. He placed them in a brooder in his meat house and on Sunday morning when he went to feed them not a single chicken was to be found. He saw signs indicating where rats had carried away his chickens and following up, had gone only a short distance when came to the place where he found the 91 chickens carefully stored away and all dead but four. Near the place where he found the chickens he also found a rat bed with a number of young ones which had done the mischief. By the use of his gun and the assistance of his faithful bird dog the rats were soon no more but the revenge in taking the lives of the chickens, of which he had boasted so much.

Tomorrow is the democratic convention to name delegates to the State convention, etc. All democrats who can possibly be present should be at the Court House at 1 o'clock.

At the office of the Secretary of the Rockcastle County Fair Ass'n Brodhead Kentucky, may be seen some handsome special premiums, which has been donated to the association, and which will be given away at the coming exhibition.

Do not fail to ask to see the special premiums, and ascertain the generous donors.

We acknowledge receipt of the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Stewart, a daughter of Judge and Mrs. Isaac Stewart, of DeLand Fla., to Mr. Casper Howarth, of Pennsylvania, which will be solemnized in the Church of Christ, at DeLand, on Saturday the 1st. of June 1912. Mr. and Mrs. Howarth will reside at Chester, Penn.

A large blast was fired Wednesday, in the Sparks quarry near town, consisting of five 52 foot holes of six inches in diameter. The stone thus broke from the hill will make four thousand yards of ballast or one hundred car loads. There are 15 other holes of same dimensions, already drilled, which will be fired later, requiring something like 2,000 pounds of dynamite.

Contractor A. E. Chilton has completed the three miles of pike and same has been accepted by the county. Judge Bethurum, Judge Lewis, Contractor Chilton, the gov magistrates and a number of others went over the pike Tuesday and found the work entirely satisfactory, received the road and made allowance to Mr. Chilton for the full amount due him. The Fiscal Court was so well pleased that they not only paid Mr. Chilton every dollar he asked for but unanimously voted him the thanks of the court and gave him a letter to that effect which letter is made a record of the court, for the splendid and workmanship like manner in which the work was done.

Everyone is insane on some particular subject.

One day's worship will not balance six days' hypocrisy.

He is a wise man who can keep his face closed at the right time.

Don't fail to hear Prof. Acheson at Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

When a man's down his enemies stop kicking him—to let his friends begin.

The mumps are plentiful in town and are not confined entirely to the young ones either.

And some church members seem to think it is up to the minister to make good for the entire congregation.

A man never knows much until he is three score and ten and then he hasn't much use for knowledge.

Hobe McClure, a son of Wash McClure, of near Livingston who was sent to the school of Reform for breaking into a box car, has been pardoned by the Governor.

The report is going the rounds that small pox is raging in Brodhead. There was one family had the disease, but they are all well and the report is wholly unfounded.

Prof. John C. Acheson will deliver an address at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at which time will be the commencement exercises of Brown Memorial.

Miss Dora M. Fish, acting treasurer of the Woman's Board of Home Missions and other friends, stopped off yesterday for a day at Langdon dormitory on their return home from the General Assembly at Louisville.

Cull McClure, who is known as the best humored old soul in the county, has a two cent piece which he claims to have carried in his pants for 27 years. A two cent piece 27 years old is nothing to brag on; money wont spoil; but what most people are interested in is how he made his pants last so long.

The Town Board has prepared ordinances ordering concrete sidewalks to be constructed on West side of Williams street from Main St., to railroad crossing. Also on South side of Adams street from the small section house west to corporation line. This will give the people of that end of the village to come to Main street in winter without wading ten inches mud.

It is up to the town to connect the pike over town hill and while the board of trustees may not have the right to collect any tax because of the past muddle of the town, yet they do have the right to issue bonds and build the road, and we hope to see it done, just as soon as possible.

Brodhead which has always run so smoothly, is now having her troubles, and it is over side walks. Robert Burton and Oscar Spoonamore are charged with attempting to intimidate J. H. Wagoner, the concrete man who was building the walks, because he was working negroes, and the number of prominent citizens here Saturday from Brodhead interested in the case shows that there is considerable feeling among the citizens, which we hope will soon pass away. We know what strife in a little town will do. We have had the experience.

Thursday evening, at the Presbyterian Church, was held the closing exercises of Welch Marrow. A program of recitations orations and music was rendered. There were three, Miss Agnes Eberhart, Miss Katie Price and Master Ralph Griffin were publicly presented with Certificates, from the county board of education admitting them to the County high school, and the grades made by each were very commendable, so much so, that for that reason Miss Ida May Adams the Principal of the school, at a late date decided to have the exercises that they might be publicly presented with the certificates. This was Welch Marrow first year and has been a very successful one.

The Presbyterian church was taxed to its full capacity last evening by interested hearers to witness the recital of the music pupils of Miss Claudia Dodson. Every piece rendered showed earnest work and thoroughness in training, and the fact that Miss Dodson will not likely return next year, is sincerely regretted by Mt. Vernon people.

Last night was the beginning of the closing exercises of Brown Memorial. To-night is the undergraduate evening at Langdon chapel. Sunday, Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Watson. Monday evening High school entertainment and Tuesday commencement proper and lecture by Prof. Acheson.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You will find Chamberlain's Liniment wonderfully effective. One application will convince you of its merits. Try it. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

This is one of the tragedies of the telephone. There are more numerous romances. Many a love story is told over the wire, many a love-sick swain pours out his heart story over the wire.

When the call comes the operator at the switchboard does not know whether it is for the police station or the fire department. Cannot tell whether the midnight call is for a physician or for an undertaker. Can not know what the call may mean.

The daily melodrama of switchboard will grow as the world grows. The value of the telephone is increasing every day.

Of course there are monotonous days and many of them, but still that element of uncertainty is the keynote of the telephone operators daily work. It may be to summon a physician to usher an other life into the world, it may be for a preacher to administer the final solace to the departing soul. It may be to alarm the police of a murder committed or it may be to summon the parson to unite two hearts.

Telephone Topics calls attention to an interesting feature of the telephone service. The life of a telephone operator is really a melodrama. No one can conceive of the tragedies that are enacted at the switchboard, the tales of grief that are unfolded, the scandals that creep over the wires, the sudden calls for help, the news of fire, are all stories told over the telephone.

Sick headaches results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try it. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

Lawyer (to the judge)—Would it be contempt of court to call your honor a crook and a thief? Judge—It certainly would. Lawyer—Then I won't take the chance, your honor.

HELPS A JUDGE IN BAD FIX.

Justice Eli Cherry, of Gillis Mills Tenn., was plainly worried. A bad sore on his leg had baffled several doctors and long resisted all remedies. "I thought it was a cancer," he wrote. "At last I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was completely cured." Cures burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises and piles. 25 cents at Chas. C. Davis.

Butcher—"Come Herber be lively now. Break the bones in Mr. Poynte's chops and put M. Thompson's ribs in the basket for him." Herbert—"All right, just as soon as I have sawed off Mr. Griffins leg and wrapped up Mr. Adams heart."

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

The Autopiano

Don't Deny Yourself The Pleasure of Having Good Piano Music in Your Own Home

The piano is the greatest of all pleasure instruments for the home and it is no longer necessary to be an accomplished musician in order to play it.

Human Ingenuity has made it possible for anyone to play a piano by means of perforated music rolls—thus eliminating years of tedious practice—and placing the responsibility of correct playing on the piano rather than on the pianist.

The AUTOPIANO

Has every device necessary to make the piano "human," but you will realize this only when you hear it played. That is why we want you to let us demonstrate The Autopiano. It's just like going to hear some great pianist play—only there is no admission charge.

A LITTLE OPTIMISTIC BUT NOT WHOLLY WITHOUT FAITH

Mt. Vernon a city of 15,000 population, beautifully situated in the central part of Rockcastle county, Ky., one of the wealthiest counties in the State, made so by its once unknown resources, such as coal, iron and stone, the timber all having been cut and the people finally giving their attention to farming and manufacturing. There are three large stone manufacturing plants all doing a remarkable business. The City of Mt. Vernon now has the finest of paved streets and the corners are carefully guarded by traffic police, to see that no one is injured in the struggle of the street cars and auto-mobiles as they pass hauling the masses to and from their various places of business.

"The Rockcastle", the best hotel in this part of the State, with its handsome lobbies and its commodious parlors, is constantly having bouquets thrown upon it by Senator Smith and old Gov. Miller of this place, when they come home from the capital to see their dear ones who reside here. Mt. Vernon has 75 miles of the finest pike leading into it that can possibly be made, which the people of the city of Mt. Vernon give all the credit for which she is to-day. If you could only see the people as they come in from out in the county now and see them as they once came in would at once think, that there never could have been such vast improvements. If you would like to know how this was all brought about, I can tell you in a few short words. There met in the little drug store of C. C. Davis some 4 or 5 men who had the city at heart and at once declared themselves in favor of picking our county and banded themselves together and made as their slogan "pike Rockcastle". Every one put his shoulder to wheel so to speak and in a few week things were on foot and before the people hardly knew it work was begun in every part of the county and you can see for yourself what the sequel of that little meeting in the drug store did.

Mt. Vernon boasts of having a beautiful opera house, two whole sale groceries and fifty of the handsomest retail stores in this part of the state. Interurbans connects us with Pine Hill Ky., which claims the largest cement plant in the United States working something like 3000 men.

This too contribute wonderfully in making Mt. Vernon the City it is to-day. The Mt. Vernon Fair Association which was organized some 5 or 6 years ago by a few Mt. Veronn people proved to be one of the greatest attributes to the making of the city of today. The association is making a strong fight to have the state authorities to hold the State Fair at this place which looks as though we will land it.

A party of young folks motored over to the city from Brodhead last night to attend the closing exercises of the Brown Memorial School which institution has grown to be one of the largest Female school in the State.

Prof. T. A. Houston and family motored over from Shelbyville to be present when several of his old pupils Graduated at the Mt. Vernon Graded School. It is to be remembered that Prof. was a strong man and left signs of his good works done here some years ago.

W. H. Fish, F. L. Thompson Jr. and Dr. Shirley Tate motored over to the city of Wildie to get their old friend Chas. C. Davis, late of Winchester Ky., who almost wept, when he saw what great advancement the old town and county had made.

THE DEMONDS OF THE SWAMP.

are mosquitos. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach liver and kidney ills. 50 cts. at Chas. C. Davis.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.
